The Downtown Neighborhood Council officially recognizes the Downtown L.A. Film Festival (DTLAFF) as a major cultural event in the historic and business center of the City of Los Angeles.

We applaud festival founders Henry K. Priest and Greg Ptacek, programming director Karolyne Sosa, and the Board of Directors on their perseverance in hosting annual events since its inception in 2008. The World-renowned festival focuses on showcasing the Downtown area as a multicultural diverse business destination for residents and paying tribute to its illustrious contribution to film production and the arts. Over the past fourteen years, the festival has promoted more than eighty downtown businesses, and in the process, encouraged the propagation of new businesses and tourism within the district.

DLANC wishes DTLAFF much success in their future ventures.

Sincerely,
